Beautiful Gladioli

RETAIL PRICE LIST OF SURPLUS GLADIOLI BULBS FROM OUR PRIVATE GARDENS

Our bulbs are all grown at the base of the "Sacred Hill" of the Seneca Indians on Canandaigua Lake. This hill was known to them as "Ge-nun-da-wah" and is the traditional scene of their creation—their Garden of Eden. It is now known by the prosaic name of Bare Hill, since no trees grow at the summit. Their old burying ground is near by, and we have often wondered if the long departed spirit of some beautiful Indian maiden did not influence the coloring, so like a painted Indian Chief, of one of our new glads which we have named Ge-nun-da-wah (soft sound of "G").
